Notes

Notes: Jane Ray CIENER

General: A Poem by Jane Ray Ciener Cohen
February 18, 1996

There's not much to look forward to when old age takes your hand.

Seems something aches each morning
and the ship doesn't know where to land.

We think back on all the good things we had-the band played, our cares were few and now we wake up sad.

At least we're here and can share our fears and woe.

So perk up- great each day with a smile and say ho! ho!

Preparer:

1. Jane Ciener Cohen, Hand written poem mailed to James Ciener Cohen in 1997.
